If the postoffice gang in this city can procure the attendance of Eliza Pinkston at their rally, as they contemplate, they will undoubtedly have an "imposing" affair.

As Judge Black has been quoted as the chief endorser of Garfield's honesty by Republican papers, why do they not publish Judge Black's exposure of Garfield's character?

It was remarked by every one that the immense number of people at the grand Democratic rally in this city on Tuesday was the most orderly crowd that had ever assembled in this city.

JUDGE SAM SINCLAIR seems to be the most popular nominee, having no opposition. Members of all parties love the Judge, and are bound he shall represent them at Indianapolis.

The postoffice gang in this city want a rally, and claim that the State Republican Central Committee has money enough to help them out. Save your money, boys; You may need it after the first of March next.

If the result of the October election in Indiana will settle the result of the November election, as claimed by both Republicans and Democrats, then General Hancock will be the next President.

The plumed knight does not any longer fight upon his own "dunghill," and has abandoned Maine to bolster up Garfield's waning fortunes in other places. They are lost in Indiana, and no earthly power can save them.

It is said that another outrage is about to be perpetrated upon the honest voters of Indiana, by the infamous Davenport, of New York, who was at Indianapolis a few days ago to make arrangements to arrest Democrats and keep them from voting. He has thousands of bank affidavits, it is said, and any amount of money to aid in carrying out his nefarious scheme.

THE New York Times, one of the staunchest Republican papers published, says: "General Hancock's letter on rebel war claims is frank and explicit, and it does not sneak behind a forced construction of the fourteenth amendment, but declares his personal purpose in regard to legislation, which the amendment does not cover." The assurance which he gives does credit to his honesty and his independence, and is one which every intelligent citizen, whatever his politics, will receive.

MANUFACTURERS at South Bend and New Albany are said to have given their hands the choice of voting the Republican ticket or else leaving employment in the concerns where they are at work.

We know of but one sure and certain cure for such bull-dozing as this, and that is that Democrats, the country over, shall treat the products of these firms as convict labor, compared with free labor—saleable only at serious discount. Just put the screws to these bull-dozers in this way, and they will at once become as truculent as Uriah Heeps.

This is what these manufacturers mean by their new screed on protection of home industry. Home industry is to be protected to the extent that laborers shall vote the Republican ticket. If it dare think to vote its own convictions, it must do so at the peril of losing present employment. The free labor of the country has the means of self-protection in its own hands. If it shall be so craven as to yield up its right to vote its convictions in order to get present bread, it will be enslaved. If it make a resolute fight for freedom those who seek to enslave it will flee.

JUDGE BLACK wrote a letter of regret to the Tammany Committee, who had invited him to attend their demonstration, in which, among other things, the Judge says of Garfield: "In everything unconnected with politics his behavior is regulated by principles of the soundest morality. But in public affairs he does not act upon his convictions; when he passes into the domain of politics his conscience loses its grip; and for his party he is willing to do any wrong that will promote their interests, or play any card, how false soever, which will win him power. This surrender of his moral and mental integrity is the condition upon which he holds his high place in the affections of the party he belongs to. Treachery to his country is fidelity to his faction." This pen-picture of Garfield by Judge Black is undoubtedly true, and it is a pity that such a man has been placed before the people for the highest office in their gift.

It is reported that the agents of Sol Bash, to whom he has promised deputyships if he be elected, to the number of one hundred or more, are to be furnished horses and buggies and money, and are to be let loose upon the unsophisticated voters in the rural districts in the county the week preceding the election, and by bulldozing and other means compel them to vote for his election, which these would-be deputies intend to secure at all hazards. Look out for the gang, honest voters, and do not be imposed upon by these men. They have not the welfare of the public in view, in advocating the election of Sol Bash. They are simply hirelings, working for personal interest and money, and would just as soon sell out to one man as another, provided the last purchaser made the better offer.

GENERAL HANCOCK on Monday received a delegation of fifty leading gentlemen connected with the shipping interests of New York who presented the General with an address and offered him their co-operation and support during the campaign. Ship owners, leading business men in New York, and other sea board cities, believe it will be to their interest and the interest of the masses to elect General Hancock to the Presidency, and rescue the government from the hands of those who dishonor their high places.

It is quite evident that Conkling and other leaders in the Republican party intend to try their luck again with General Grant, regardless of the cry of third-term, and if the party should succeed in electing Garfield, Grant will be the candidate in 1884. Conkling does not fail whenever he speaks, to give Grant a favorable mention, indicating plainly the intention of the Grant leaders. Whether they have him in training for the head of the Empire or the nation with a big "N" can only be gained from their acts.

THERE is a prominent business man in Fort Wayne who has been making himself very obnoxious to Democrats by his underhanded lying among his Lutheran friends. This man's way of argument is to say to a Lutheran from the country, who intends to vote for Hancock, "are you going to vote for a Catholic?"

THE officers, which includes nearly every member, of an organization called Irish-American Republicans, recently in session at Saratoga, New York, went through the grand farce of endorsing the Chicago platform. The Republican party hates the Irish race, and consequently there are only a very few Irish Republicans.

WILL S. O'Rourke, Democratic nominee for Prosecuting Attorney, it is reported, is making a very satisfactory and successful canvass. He is cordially received wherever he meets the voters, and will have a complete walkover for the office. He is a young man of much promise, and is becoming a general favorite with the people.

ONE by one the distinguished generals and leaders in the Republican party leave it and take their proper places under the banner of the hero of Gettysburg. General Butterfield, of New York, Gen. Meade's chief of staff, has just followed Gen. Sickles and joined the Democrats.

It is reported that the State Republican Central Committee have secured the services of Henry Ward Beecher to make several Garfield speeches in Indiana during the campaign. Give the old man a chance, and don't throw off on Bessie Turner and Theodore Tilton.

AT Republican headquarters in Indianapolis there are no hopes of carrying the State for the Republican ticket, and have come to the conclusion that the State is Democratic, which is undoubtedly correct.

ELI PERKINS, one of the Republican stump speakers, who has been retelling Republican lies about Democrats in different parts of the State, says: It is my deliberate opinion that Indiana will go Democratic at the October election. And Eli is probably correct. The state is Democratic by several thousand, and if there can be a fair election and honest count it will be so recorded at both the October and November elections.

If the negroes are in a state of slavery in the South to-day, as Republicans claim they are, then there is the greatest necessity for a change in the general government, from the control of a party that will permit such thing to the Democrats, who will compel the enforcement of the constitution, and see that all, without regard to race, color or previous condition, should be equal before the law.

THE infernal villany of Republicans in Indiana, in importing negroes from Kentucky and scalawags from Illinois and Michigan, to vote the Republican ticket, must be thwarted. The place to stop the fraud will be at the polls. Let every voter who desires the freedom of the ballot-box, a fair vote and honest count, be at the places of holding the election and give his time and attention in preventing the frauds contemplated by Republicans, and the victory will be a grand and glorious one for the Democracy.

DURING the ten years Republicans were in power at Washington, before Democrats got control of the House of Representatives, there were over $100,000,000 of Southern claims allowed and paid, and Mr. Garfield voted for their allowance and payment, and still says that there are 200,000,000 Southern claimants that should be paid. General Hancock has stated that he is opposed to the payment of these claims, and would, if President, veto any bill for their payment. General Hancock has been heard from regarding these claims in more emphatic terms, and now the people would like to hear from General Garfield on the same subject.

REPUBLICAN orators cannot have a very high appreciation of the intelligence of the average member of the party, when they ask them to believe the political twaddle that some of them perpetrate by stating that the Southern States are in active rebellion against the Government, and that the negroes have been enslaved. General Woodford, at the Rink on Wednesday night, said as much, and as strange as it may seem, there are Republicans in the city who believe Woodford's statements. Such speakers are a benefit to the Democracy by driving votes from their own party. Republicans are credulous, but cannot all be accused of ignorance or insanity.

A special effort is being made in Ohio to carry that State for the Republican ticket, now, that Indiana is sure to go Democratic, and all the best speakers in the party have been ordered to concentrate this, and barrels of money, there will be spent by Republicans to secure Ohio for them.

Not one Republican paper, that pretends to respectability, has yet attempted a defense of Garfield's Credit Mobilier fraud. Really there can be no defense. He had the stock, received dividends, and lied about the transactions, which was proven to the satisfaction of a disinterested committee appointed to examine the charges against him. Republican leaders know these facts and cannot deny them.

THE Howgate expedition to the Polar regions has been abandoned for the present season.

A Bloodhound's Gratitude.

The Detroit Free Press tells a remarkable story of a bloodhound's gratitude at Andersonville. The prisoners were allowed to go out in squads, strongly guarded, to collect firewood. One day it was the hero's turn to go, and for the first time since his imprisonment he caught sight of "Colonel Catchem," the big bloodhound. The Michiganard noticed that the dog limped painfully on one of his fore feet, but gave the matter no special attention until, after being out for half an hour, he sat down to rest near one of the guards. The dog approached the guard as if to ask some favor, but was repulsed with an oath and a threatened blow. He then skulked around and came near the prisoner, who saw that he had an old horse shoe nail run into his foot. With a little coaxing he got the dog near and finally pulled out the nail, and the animal ran away seemingly well pleased. Twelve days after that, one night about midnight, a tunnel was ready. The prisoner was a long time getting clear of the neighborhood, and weak and starved as he was, he was not more than two miles from the stockade when day broke, and "Colonel Catchem" was put on his track. When he heard the hound coming he looked for a suitable tree to climb, but failed to find one. Armed with a club he took his stand, and determined to make a fight for it. The dog recognized the man, and began exhibiting every sign of friendship. After a few minutes the pursuers were heard in the distance. The dog at once trotted off in that direction, and was shortly baying and leading them over a fictitious trail. The prisoner pushed ahead for half an hour, and was then rejoined by the dog, who kept either close to his heels or just ahead of him all day, and lay beside him in the woods at night. This position of guardian or companion he maintained until toward night of the second day, when he returned to the stockade. The prisoner was then thirty miles away, but on the fifth morning he was recaptured. When he returned the hound met and caressed him. From that hour to the close of the war the dog would not take the trail of an escaping prisoner.

A Happy Restoration.

I can truly say that I owe my present existence and happy restoration to the hopes and joys of life, to the use of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, and I say to every one suffering from any manner of kidney, liver or urinary trouble, "Use this remedy and recover."

A Happy Husband.

On the 12th of May last George W. Ewen, one of the oldest business men of Kingston, N. Y., died, leaving property valued at about $40,000. His death occurred at the residence of M. D. Perrine, who had succeeded him in the grocery business. A short time prior to his death he made a will, the contents of which were known to four persons only besides himself. Immediately after his death it was reported that he had left his entire property to Sara A. Perrine, the wife of Matthew D. Perrine with whom he had been living, and had entirely ignored his relatives and next of kin. The heirs at law at once began proceedings to set aside the will. On the 7th of July letters of special administration on the estate were issued by Surrogate Parker, of Ulster county, to Henry D. Morris, of this city, a nephew and one of the nearest of kin, who accepted the trust and duly qualified. Mr. Ewen also left kindred residing in this State as follows: Delia B. Smith, a sister, and Mary Ewen, Margaret Watson, Catharine Cressy, his nieces, also Philip M. Ewen, his nephew, who lives in New Jersey. An examination of the will showed that Mr. Ewen had left his property to both Mr. Perrine and his wife. A bank book of the Ulster County Savings Institution showed a deposit to his credit of $6,374.47. Administrator Morris brought suit in the supreme court of Ulster county to recover this sum. In his complaint he alleged that on or about January 12, 1880, the defendants, M. D. and Sarah A. Perrine, well knowing Mr. Ewen to be of great age and feeble health and understanding, and unable by reason of his mental and physical condition to lawfully dispose of his property, fraudulently and unlawfully intending to defraud the said George W. Ewen, and inure and defraud his next of kin, induced the said George W. Ewen, without consideration, to execute a paper purporting to be an assignment of the bank book and of the bank account mentioned to John S. Burhaus, in trust, to collect and receive the dividends on said deposit during the lifetime of said Ewen; and at and upon the death of Ewen to pay the principal sum of $6,374.47 to the following persons, namely: M. D. Perrine, $3,000; Sara A. Perrine, $3,374.47. The complaint further alleges that said Burhaus accepted the trust and caused the deposit to be transferred to his credit as trustee, and still retains it, amounting with dividend thereon, to $6,501.95. The plaintiff demands that the assignment be adjudged fraudulent and void, and that the bank be restrained from paying the money to its co-defendants, or any other person except plaintiff. County Judge Lawton granted an injunction enjoining and restraining the bank from paying over the money until the further order of the Court. Mr. Burhaus, the trustee mentioned, is one of the leading capitalists of Kingston. The question of the admission of the will to probate is now being heard by Surrogate Parker in Kingston. Ex-Attorney-General Schoonmaker and J. J. Linson, Esq., represent the contestants, and Senator Charles A. Fowler and Augustus Van Buren, Esq., the respondent.

A Happy Husband.

It was just twenty years ago that Samuel Walbridge left home in Michigan to come to the golden State to better his pecuniary condition. He left a wife and two young children, both girls. For a few years after his arrival in California he corresponded frequently with his family and sent his wife considerable sums of money, at one time $1,700. But like thousands of others, he was afterwards unfortunate in business, grew careless and all correspondence between himself and family ceased.

In the mean time the prudent wife had invested the money, received from her husband in real estate; the daughters grew to womanhood, married, and the mother prospered exceedingly, from her investment in land in the then comparatively new State. Urged by her daughters and a desire to again meet her long absent husband, Mrs. Walbridge set out for California in search of the absent head of the family, not knowing whether he was living or not. At Sacramento by chance she made the acquaintance of a gentleman who informed her that Walbridge was alive and well, and that he resided at Antioch. She hastened to meet him, and on Friday of last week had the unspeakable pleasure of making herself known to the long absent husband and father. Mr. Walbridge was taken completely by surprise. He was informed by the wife that she was in possession of a handsome property in Michigan, the result of having properly invested the money sent by him. The re-united husband and wife departed for San Francisco Saturday morning, and immediately returned to their eastern home.—San Francisco Call.

SCRIBNER is now ten years old, and the managers seem disposed to celebrate the fact by a November number of unusual strength. No fewer than four large engravings by Cole will be given, and other well known engravers will be duly represented. The literary quality will be remarkable, and the contributions will include an essay on Whitman, by Steadman; a fine study of Gladstone, by a Member of Parliament; a descriptive paper on the Bordentown (N. J.) Bonaparte, more of the pathetic life of Millet, a critique of the painter Vedder, a stirring account of the battle of Mobile Bay, apropos of the new statue of Farragut, by St. Gaudens, and some practical suggestions about Tableaux, with illustrations. The first chapters (twenty-eight pages) of "Peter the Great as Ruler and Reformer," and of "Tiger Lily," a new short serial, and one or two other features not yet to be announced, will make up a rich and able number.

An article appeared in our last issue bitterly condemning Hon. Hugh McCulloch. The SENTINEL is not in sympathy with the charges made against this honorable gentleman, and though we are opposed to Mr. McCulloch's political views, we admire him
as a man, and as an able gentleman.
A Neat Job.
Last evening a party of three men,
entered a saloon kept by a man named Rapp, on West Main street, and called for beer. While Mr. Rapp was drawing the beer one of the men walked around the bar and began fooling with the faucet, at the same time making several inquiries of Mr. Rapp about the condition of business which engaged Mr. Rapp's attention who stood for some little time with his back turned to the other parties.
While he was drawing the beer and talking one of the parties outside the bar slipped around the counter, secured the money drawer and together
with his companions bolted hurriedly
out of the door.
When the man who had been talking to Mr. Rapp said that his companions had left, he made a remark that he would go out and see where they had gone. Mr. Rapp had the glasses on the counter, thinking that the man would return soon, and, picking up a newspaper, sat down and began reading. Shortly after another party came in, called for beer and paid for it. When Mr. Rapp went to put the money in the drawer, he found the latter missing, and took in the situation at a glance.
He immediately informed the police, who, without any clue further than a slight description of the thieves, set about securing them.
The drawer, which was afterward found in Maiden Lane rifled of its contents, contained $35 in money, besides some valuable papers.
Amusements.
At the Grand Opera House tomorrow night, will be presented,
"Freaks," one of the most amusing
comedies of the present day, by the O-

The Pleasures of Hope.
When the body is bowed with pain
an intense longing for relief brings hope. This may brighten the suffering, but it does not cure. At a time like this how welcome is such a friend
as Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, bringing hope, health and happiness and the joys of a renewed life.
